

NFL POWER RANKINGS

WEEK 4: VINCE MAROTTA

RANK	TEAM	COMMENT
1	Kansas City	Kareem Hunt doing all the things for the Chiefs that David Johnson was supposed to do for the Cardinals.
2	Atlanta	Good road win in Detroit, even if they may have gotten a little help.
3	New England	For most of the game against Houston, they looked very average. Then Tom Brady does Tom Brady things when it counts.
4	Green Bay	For most of the game against Cincinnati, they looked very average. Then Aaron Rodgers does Aaron Rodgers things when it counts.
5	Dallas	Dak Prescott can beat you with his arm -- ask the Cardinals.
6	Oakland	Losing badly to Washington was the second-most perplexing thing I saw in Week 3.
7	Detroit	Can make a case Golden Tate was in. Even in a loss, Detroit might be for real.
8	Tennessee	Ran wild on Seattle.
9	Minnesota	Case Keenum showing what he is -- a capable backup.
10	Washington	Very impressive win over Oakland. Might have the best group of RBs in the league.
11	Denver	Kill Dallas? Check. Stink up the joint in Buffalo? Check.
12	Pittsburgh	All those weapons and such little production.
13	Philadelphia	Rookie kicker wins a game on a 61-yard field goal -- pretty cool stuff.
14	LA Rams	The offense looks good, but I'm still not totally sold. We'll find out more against Dallas.
15	Jacksonville	Absolutely dismantled the Ravens.
16	Houston	Bill O'Brien handed the game to Pats. Can't kick FGs in Foxborough and expect to win.
17	Seattle	It currently looks like the Seahawks have problems on both lines.
18	Buffalo	Sean McDermott's Bills have been the surprise of the league so far.
19	Tampa Bay	Three picks from Winston plants seeds of doubt that Bucs are ready to elevate.
20	New Orleans	A road win with Brees throwing for only 220? That doesn't happen often.
21	Chicago	Jordan Howard scores winning TD then sets NFL record for most audible 'F' bombs in celebration.
22	Carolina	Anybody seen Cam Newton?
23	Arizona	Can't beat anyone if you can't block anyone.
24	NY Giants	Odell Beckham is very talented. And very weird.
25	Indianapolis	Jacoby Brissett will make some team a nice starting QB next year.
26	Baltimore	Easily the ugliest single-game performance by any team this year.
27	Cincinnati	Hey, they scored a touchdown!
28	LA Chargers	At least this week, they didn't lose on a missed FG. Philip Rivers made sure that wouldn't happen.
29	NY Jets	Didn't just beat the Dolphins. Manhandled the Dolphins.
30	Miami	This is what happens when you get manhandled by the Jets.
31	Cleveland	Late rally comes up short.
32	San Francisco	Improvement on offense, but 0-3 is 0-3.
