

NFL POWER RANKINGS

WEEK 6 : Luke Lapinski

RANK	TEAM	COMMENT
1	KANSAS CITY	Kareem Hunt didn't even score and they still put up 42.
2	DENVER	Moved up without playing a game. That says something about everyone else.
3	NEW ENGLAND	Nick Folk only misses three field goals in a close game if he's playing the Patriots, right?
4	CAROLINA	Ironically Christian McCaffrey's first NFL TD came on a not-so-complicated, one-yard pass route.
5	PHILADELPHIA	No. 1 in time of possession this season - and it shows.
6	ATLANTA	One of just six teams left with less than two losses.
7	GREEN BAY	When you have Aaron Rodgers, it really doesn't matter who might be missing from the lineup.
8	PITTSBURGH	Big Ben throwing five INTs and zero TDs against Jacksonville isn't exactly encouraging.
9	SEATTLE	Cooper Kupp only drops that pass in the end zone if he's playing the Seahawks, right?
10	DETROIT	Even after that impressive start, they could still end up 3-3 heading into their bye week.
11	WASHINGTON	Nothing happened and they somehow went up. Just like Kirk Cousins' salary next season.
12	LA RAMS	They were so close to being 4-1 and taking a commanding lead in the NFC West.
13	DALLAS	Some teams just have an opponent they can't seem to beat. The Packers are that team for Dallas lately.
14	MINNESOTA	Apparently the offense runs through Jerick McKinnon now?
15	OAKLAND	Three straight losses where they averaged 12.3 points per game.
16	JACKSONVILLE	Leonard Fournette's gotten into the end zone every NFL game he's played - regular and preseason.
17	HOUSTON	There might not be anyone in the league more fun to watch right now than Deshaun Watson.
18	BUFFALO	Build up hope... then lose to the Bengals. What an odd strategy.
19	TENNESSEE	Scoring 10 points and losing to the Dolphins isn't usually the best way to make the playoffs.
20	BALTIMORE	Good luck figuring the Ravens out.
21	TAMPA BAY	If only they'd spent a high draft pick on a kicker...
22	NEW ORLEANS	Week 3 win over the Panthers looks pretty impressive now. And they're quietly hanging around in the South.
23	CINCINNATI	See? All they needed was that big victory over the Browns last week to propel them to greatness.
24	ARIZONA	There's really no need to talk about that game in Philadelphia ever again. Ever.
25	NY JETS	I know they're 3-2. Let's give it a couple weeks before we start hanging Super Bowl banners though.
26	MIAMI	Cutler threw for 92 yards and they won. That's probably the way they'll need to do it.
27	LA CHARGERS	Well, at least they're better than the Giants.
28	INDIANAPOLIS	Seems sort of fitting that Vinatieri kicks the game-winner on the day Peyton Manning is honored.
29	CHICAGO	But Trubisky's playing now, so at least Chicago fans are happier with the losing.
30	NY GIANTS	Can't remember the last time a team lost all their WRs in a game. Or lost a game to the Chargers.
31	SAN FRANCISCO	At least most of their losses are close now.
32	CLEVELAND	The new and improved Cleveland Browns look a lot like the old and whatever-the-opposite-of-improved-is Cleveland Browns.